

ELLSWORTH H. ADSIT

Ellsworth Horatio Adsit, 71, Rt. 1, Palmyra, died Wednesday evening, December 15, at Fort Atkinson Hospital.

He was born January 23, 1905 on the Adsit homestead where he had lived his entire life, located two miles south of Palmyra on Tamarack Road. He was the son of Horatio and Lillian Beins School.

He and his wife Veronica farmed on the homestead farm after their marriage July 10, 1926. He was a member of Palmyra Fish and Game Club.

Survivors are his wife and two nephews, who were raised in the Adsit home. Wayne Stoddard, Palmyra, and Roger D. Anderson, Rome.

Services were at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 19, in the Smith-Jorris Funeral Home with Reverend Robert J. Gille, St. Mary's Catholic Church, officiating. Organ music and song service by Mrs. John Orchard and Mrs. Gerald Blomiley who sang "The Old Rugged Cross."

Pallbearers were Hilmer Kruse, Eari Schmidt, Richard Rindt, Richard Havlik, Walter Adsit and Ira Adsit, Jr.

Burial was in Hillside Cemetery, Palmyra.